As usual, A. J. Nutting won the most of the As usual, A. J. Nutting won the most of prizes, he having two magnificent horses in Duke and Holly that show careful training and are obedient to every touch on the rein. Still his were not the only handsome horses shown. William F. Tooker's Ruby and Romp came in for a large share of applause, and Victor Koechl's Suno had many praises as being "a dandy saddle horse." E. T. Bedford's Gillette also came in for a large share of Offerman, and many others.

tra, which played between the judging of the various classes, added much pleasure to the affair.

The first entry of the afternoon was five ponies in Maude V. Jones, Master Jack Dykman, Miss Dorothy Hubbs and Miss Alice J. Cordier. All these were little children who handled the reins serenely, and seemed to enjoy seeing friends among the on-lookers. The first prize, $15, went to Mars II, driven by Miss Hubbs; the second, $10, to Bobolink, driven by Master Jack Dykman, and the third to Miss Alice J. Cordier, though ribbons went to all. In the second entry, seven single horses, the first prize went to Flashlight, owned by Hamilton H. Salmon, the second to an unnamed, owned by E. H.

The third entry was perhaps the prettiest of all, It being the class of saddle tandema. Miss Emily H. Bedford drove her own horses. Red Berry and Sliver Thread, and took the first prize. She handled her horses with skill, and when, after the award of the prizes, the forward horse was startled by the clapping, she showed great presence of mind in controlling him. The second prize was won by Bird S. Coler's horses, driven by Miss Tillio Whiting, and the third prize by Loki and Treadwell, driven by Mrs. G. H. Potter and owned by her and Miss Whit-

Henry Sanger Snow was born in Brooklyn forty-three years ago. He was graduated from the Polytechnic Institute in 1878, and after a course in the Columbia Law School was admitted to the bar in 1896. Four years later he was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States. For advanced professional study he received in 1892 the degree of LL. M. In 1893 Mr. Snow became the treasurer of the New-York and New-Jersey Telephone Company, and has since devoted himself to the duties of that office. He is a director of the Brooklyn Public Library, and member of the Executive Committee of the New-York Civil Service Reform Association, of the Hamilton Club, the Marine and Field Club and the Dyker Meadow Club, as well as the Bar Association of the City of New-York. Mr. Snow has been a trustee of the Polytechnic Institute since 1895, and has always taken an active interest in its welfare. Brainerd Kellogg has been appointed dean of the welfare.

The new head of the academic department was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1876. After that he was principal of the high schools in Battle Creek and Detroit, and the military academy in Orchard Lake. Since 1887 he has been one of the head masters in the Lawrenceville school, in New-Jersey. Some time ago, when the Board of Education was looking for a suitable head for the Boys' High School, a majority of the committee was in favor of Mr. Hull, but he was not secured at that time. All who know him speak most highly of his educational and executive ability. ability.

Professor Kellogg, who has been appointed the head of the collegiate faculty, has held the chair of English language and literature in the institute for about thirty years.

DEBATE ON RELIGION AND CIVILIZATION. Henry Rowley and Henry Nichols will debate on the "Influence of the Christian Religion on Civiliof the men were out on $2,500 bail, and the other was paroled in the custody of his counsel, Robert H. Rov.
One of the escaped men is C. Walters, who was arrested some time ago and pleaded guility to the charge of sending gre-mgoods circulars through the mails. He was to have appeared for sentence yesterday morning before United States Justice Thomas. When Walters's name was called he did not respond, and after a wait of ten infinites the court was adjourned. Mr. Roy will be held responsible for his appearance.

Another prisoner who would rather live in other parts of the country is Bernard Goldbers, arrested on February 4, and charged with being implicated in the illicit still at No. 204 Fowell-st. The distillery was owned by Joseph Schwartzman, and was conducted by him with the help of Ignatz Scherman and Cuarles Lippo. Goldberg was considered to be one of the most valuable of the prisoners. He was seen on Friday dressed in an unusually line manner, and one of the Government employes who saw him remarked that he locked as though he was going away. Yesterday the man was not to be found. S. Frindel, his bondsman, was informed at once of the mais disappearance.

Several days ago Marshai Haubert learned that M. Max de Schminangk, who was to be tried on a charge of forging the name of a Staten Island postmaster to a note, could not be found. A thorough search was made in vain. He was arrested about a year ago.

The last prisoner of the four who have decided that they can hurl defiance at the Federal laws and courts is Joseph Coldurn, who on January II was accused of fraudulently procuring naturalization papers and selling them. He was put on a hond of $2,500, and immediately decided that the money was no object to his bondsman, and left the country.

JOHNNIE ROSE RELEASED.

Johnnie Rose, the small boy who shot and killed his playmate, Freddie Ryan, in Bath Beach several days ago, was released by Coroner Burger yes terday morning after an investigation. Rose told the jury in a simple and childlike way how when the gun had gone off his playmate, who lay dying, said: "Johnnie, you had better put that gun away."

ADELPHI COLLEGE NOTES.

Manual training has been a part of the Adelphi Academy course of study in the primary and first two grammar grades for the last four years. Below the third grade the work has been largely in paper, cardboard and clay, in the making of objects con-nected with or relating to the work of the grades in their study of form. Beginning with the third grades, the knife has been used in the construction of simple and useful articles, which are generally carried home to be used by some member of the household. Among the articles made are winders, penul sharpeners and bill files, and mounts of various kinds, also racks, frames and paper-cutters. Mechanical drawing precedes the making, as each new article to be made presents some new feature or difficulty. Thicker wood is used in the fourth and fifth grades, and the use of the try square is taught, the new tool in the fifth grade being a small knife for carving. The time devoted to the work is divided between the free-hand drawing and knife work, one hour being given to the subject in the third grade and one and one-half hours in the fourth and fifth grades. It is expected that in the coming year more time will be devoted to this work in each of the grades, as its value as a factor in education is being more strongly felt each year. grade and continuing through the following two
